Your Personal data will be stored till:

- they are necessary to render you the Services;
- your consent is no longer valid;
- your personal data have been deleted following your data deletion request;
- we have received the court order or a lawful authority's request mandating to permanently delete all the personal data we have obtained about you; or
- In other circumstances prescribed by applicable laws.

In any event, we will not store your personal data for periods longer than it is necessary for the purposes of the processing.

7. Personal Data Recipients and Transfer of Personal Data

For the purposes of rendering the Services to you and operating the website, the Company may share your personal data with certain categories of recipients and under circumstances mentioned below:

providers, consultants, advisors, vendors and partners acting as data processors (meaning they process your personal data on our behalf and according to your instructions), which may supply hosting services, web analytics services, email marketing and automation services to run and operate the website, maintain, deliver and improve the Services. With all such parties we enter into data processing agreements required to be concluded by the applicable laws between controllers and processors to protect and secure the personal data by using appropriate technical and organizational measures; only in strict compliance with the applicable provisions, the Company also may share the personal data with governmental authorities upon their decision, receipt of court orders mandating the Company to disclose the personal data. In any such case, the Company will strive to disclose only a portion of the personal data which is definitely required to be disclosed, while continuing to treat the rest of the data in confidence; with any other third parties, if we have been explicitly requested to do so by you and as long as it doesn't infringe the applicable laws.

Transfers to third countries, shall be made subject to appropriate safeguards, namely standard contractual clauses adopted by a supervisory authority. Copy of the foregoing appropriate safeguards may be obtained by you upon a prior written request sent. We may instruct you on further steps to be taken with a purpose of obtaining such a copy, including your obligation to assume confidentiality commitments in connection with being disclosed the Company's proprietary and personal information of third parties as well as terms of their relationships with the Company.

Keep in mind that the use of services based on public blockchains intended to immutably record transactions across wide networks of computer systems. Many blockchains are open to forensic analysis which can lead to deanonymization and the unintentional revelation of personal data, in particular when blockchain data is combined with other data. Because blockchains are decentralized or third-party networks which are not controlled or operated by us, we are not able to erase, modify, or alter personal data from such networks.

8. Security of Processing

We take information security very seriously. We work hard to protect the personal data you give us from loss, misuse, or unauthorized access. We utilize a variety of safeguards to protect the personal data submitted to us, both during transmission and once it is received.

9. Contacts and Requests; Changes to the Privacy Notice

Please send all your requests and queries in connection with your rights and freedoms relating to the personal data protection and processing conducted by the Company as part of providing the website and rendering the Services to you to an Administrator of USDFI's official Telegram channel.

Changes to the Privacy Notice will be displayed in the form of the updated document published on the website. We also can arrange the updates introduced to the Privacy Notice by archiving the previous versions of the document accessible in the electronic form on the website.
